Subject: Declaration of conformity regarding recycled polypropylene pots and trays

The pots and trays from Van Krimpen fall under Regulation (EU) 2025/40 on packaging and packaging waste (hereinafter "the packaging regulation"), which came into effect on February 11, 2025, and applies from August 12, 2026, provided they are also used for selling the plant. If these pots and trays are not used for selling the plant and are only used for the growth cycle, then they do not fall under the packaging regulation. See page 4, paragraph 4 of the explanation of Regulation (EU) 2025/40, Annex 1.

Van Krimpen hereby declares that it fully complies with the packaging regulation guidelines based on the following three standards that packaging must meet:

1. Van Krimpen's pots and trays are 100% recyclable, see independent Cyclos certificate, annex 2
2. Van Krimpen's pots and trays consist at the moment, on average, of 94% recycled material.
3. The average empty space when stacked on a pallet, is approximately 4.2%.

Van Krimpen operates its own recycling facility where used pots and trays from Van Krimpen's customers are recycled and used by Van Krimpen to manufacture new pots and trays. On average, these pots and trays consist of 20% recycled material that Van Krimpen collects and recycles itself.

This declaration of conformity applies to the following product groups from Van Krimpen: DecoTainer high, DecoTainer low, pot high, pot low, Drainmax, square pots, square rose pots, round rose pots, soft fruit pots, pond baskets, waterplant cups, closing pots, decorative pots, hanging baskets, hydro pots, elegance pots, plant bowls, all types of R-trays and herb baskets.

Including: All sizes, all colors, all types of pot bottoms, all different wall thicknesses, printed or unprinted and all other product variants produced within these product groups and made from recycled polypropylene.
